Wood You Not Know It?

May 2022 Riddle #4: With baseball season finally in play, this month's Wood You Not Know It? riddle is a doubleheader with the April quiz. As a noun, it is "the scientific study of trees". Its adjective form is "having the shape or form of a tree". Extra credit for identifying a noun related to this word for "the science or technique of dating events, environmental change, and archaeological artifacts by using the characteristic patterns of annual growth rings in timber and tree trunks." See if you can figure it out & send us your answer to: info@kwoa.net

April 2022 Riddle #3 Answer: Arborescent is the word defined as "resembling a tree in growth or appearance". Read more here.

- WRUS radio, Russellville, hosts KWOA guests on American Chestnut restoration: KWOA board members Henry Duncan and Jimmie Sizemore were the featured guests on the April 27th broadcast of WRUS radio Feedback with Don Neagle. Henry's ancestors owned forests in Logan County, home of WRUS radio 610 AM, Russellville. The hour aired a lively interchange on the history and demise of the American Chestnut. Jimmie described the three-pronged approach to its restoration by The American Chestnut Foundation (read more at ACF.org). Listen to the one-hour broadcast by going to the April 27 Podcast on the WRUS website at <https://streamdb3web.securenetsystems.net/cirrusencore/WRUSAM>.
